

NAME: Alessandra Di Pisa
DATE OF BIRTH: 7 January 1977
NATIONALITY: Swedish
MARITAL STATUS: Single

For me the world is like a giant puzzle, just waiting to be solved. In my undying quest for the truth, I'm best at finding solutions to complex problems. Lucky for all of us, though, I love to share my brilliant thoughts. My keen analytical skills and understanding of others games make me a vital player in the think tank. I thrive on the collaborative problem-solving process, could trouble shoot for NASA and won't rest until the questions are answered.

I am outgoing, fun, and genuinely like people. I am warm, affectionate, and disconcertingly spontaneous. However, attention span in relationships can be short; I am easily intrigued and distracted by new friends and acquaintances, forgetting about the older ones for long stretches at a time. I need to feel I am the centre of attention all the time, to reassure me that everyone thinks I am a wonderful and fascinating person. I want to both help and be liked and admired by other people, on both an individual and a humanitarian level.

I'm a subtle flirt, a master of the flirting game. I know how to attract attention from anyone, any time. A quick come-hither smile, a little game of look-away-and-look-back-again - before long I have the object of my affection wrapped around me little finger. One of the best things about my approach is that it's discreet. I can always act innocent and coy if something gets taken out of context or misunderstood. I just have to make sure I'm not too subtle, or I may end up playing the game all by myself.

I like what I see when I look in the mirror, with every hair in place and every crease in line, I have every reason to. Looking well put together is important to me, so I take great care with my appearance and maintain my excellent hygiene with a very consistent regimen. Since I take pride in how I appear to others, I don't feel comfortable leaving the house unless I think I look properly groomed.